Cotton — He Could Be a King

The difference between a political and a business approach to a pressing public question is illustrated by the proposal of Congressman Hampton Fulmer to enact a federal law to compel the paper industry to use cotton instead of wood-pulp in the manufacture of paper.

School District Case Advanced By High Court

Decision on Issuance of Bonds May Be Reached By June 16

LITTLE ROCK —(A.P.)—The supreme court Monday advanced for submission June 9 and probable decision June 16 a case involving constitutional-ity of Act 91 of 1931 authorizing school districts having more than one million dollar assessed valuation to issue bonds to cash their financial affairs on a cash basis.

The tribunal invited filing of "friends of the court" brief in the case.

Lakeside special school district of Chicago county appealed the action after a decision by Chief Chancellor E. G. Hammond holding invalid a $42,715 bond issue voted by the district to retire outstanding warrants.

Ben Gaines, taxpayer, who brought the suit, contended it was unconstitutional in that it permitted school districts to increase the amount of their bonded debt from 7 to 8 percent of their assessed valuation.

Attorneys for the district said the district was from 12 to 18 months behind in cashing outstanding warrants and that it was being required to discount its warrants at the rate of about 8 per cent.

Rifle Group Gets Charter

Announcement Made By National Rifle Association

WASHINGTON—The newly-organized Hempstead Rifle and Pistol club, of Hope, has been granted a senior club charter by the National Rifle association. It was announced here Monday at N. R. A. headquarters.

The new club first was organized on April 10 and has a charter membership of 23. It joins the nation-wide organization of 3,700 affiliated clubs and more than a quarter million individuals governed by the N. R. A., oldest national sportsmen's group in America.

Both handgun and rifle activity will be included on the club's program, although plans for their indoor and outdoor ranges have not yet been completed. About half of the membership own match weapons.

C. P. Roberts, 219 South Shover street, has been elected president of the organization, with Ray Cumbee, 620 South Main street, as vice president. C. E. Messer is the executive officer, and Raymond Jones, 514 East Third street, will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Speeding Case

WASHINGTON —(A.P.)—While many baseball experts think Maurice Arch-deacon, former Chicago and Washington outfielder, was the fastest man in the game ever, in getting down to the batter's box to third base as fast as George Cast, Washington flycatcher who is American league base-stealing champion.

London Makes Peace Bid to Baghdad Regime

Conciliation Gesture to Pro-Nazi Rashid Ali Al Gailani

LONDON —(A.P.)—Turkey has offered or will offer to mediate the undeclared war between Iraq and Britain, reliable reports said Monday night.

Informed sources in London said Britain would accept mediation contingent upon Iraq's withdrawal of forces menacing the British-held Habbaniyah airdrome.

(The London radio in a peace bid to Iraq's pro-German premier Rashid Ali Al Gailani said that if Iraq troops were withdrawn and fighting stopped "relations of full cordiality" would be restored between the two countries.

Business men lacked this problem, and solved it. Southern publishers financed the experiments of the late Dr. Charles H. Herty at Savannah, Ga., and on his formulas these publishers, aided by Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, himself publisher of the Houston Chronicle, and the R.F.C., they started the first pine newspaper mill in the world at Lufkin, Texas.

Already The Star has bought more than $2,000 of this new Southern pine newspaper, and the Lufkin mill has become a multi-million-dollar enterprise.

Ability to convert a native Southern raw material into an industrial product and sell it at the prevailing market price in competition with the established Northern-manufactured article—this is what we call success.

There's no hope for cotton or any other commodity in congress merely passing a law. Someone must develop new uses for cotton. Only by this means can we fill in the economic gap torn in cotton's side by the loss of her foreign markets.

Industry might help the government get rid of cotton which it holds—but it would kill the paper industry without helping the cotton that the government doesn't hold. What cotton doesn't do is punitive action against some other industry but help full action on its own account.

I have cited the example of the paper industry in adapting Southern pine pulp to the newspaper trade.

Something similar for cotton, conducted by chemists and business men, and not the politicians, is cotton's salvation in the long run—and I think the cotton country itself is getting mighty tired of hand-to-mouth "helps."

World's "Cold Pole"

The cold pole of the earth is said to be at the Siberian town of Verkhoyansk, where the temperature goes down to 160 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

Fish and Seafood Book Is 9th in The Star's Series

The Fish and Sea Food Book, ninth in The Star's series of 20 Cook-booklets, tells you how to season Baked Haddock in Cream so that the family will clamor for more.

Do you serve fish as often as you should? Fish and sea foods have always been highly prized for their high content of valuable mineral salts, especially iodine, an absolute essential for the maintenance of good health and one in which other foods are apt to be deficient.

The latest release in The Star's series of 20 Culinary Arts Institute Cook-booklets is "250 Fish and Sea Food Recipes," a practical, useful booklet packed with new and familiar suggestions for preparing these important foods attractively and deliciously.

The traditional ways of preparing fish and sea food are as much in favor as ever. We still like them baked, broiled, boiled, and fried; but we have also learned to enjoy crisp salads, molded salads, fish souffles, rolls and rings. The Fish Book presents an exciting variety of ways to serve fish and sea food for quick meals, elaborate dinners, Sunday suppers, luncheons—appetizers and entree to tempt the appetite.

You can vary your fish meals with baked fish, planked fish, stewed, steamed and boiled fish, fish and sea food grills, fish balls, fritters and puffs, fish rolls, chowders, loaves, salads, and au gratin; sea food casseroles, cutlets, a la Newburg, thermidor, souffles, plus unusual sauce, garnish and stuffing suggestions.

And in addition to all these recipes there is valuable information on what you should know about fish with a convenient purchasing guide and a special section on the cleaning, skinning, and boning of fish to help save time and work.

Each of the practical, beautiful Cookbooklets is available with one coupon from page 2 of The Star at The Star office.

Yugoslav Ships Boarded By Coast Guard

U. S. Takes 'Precautionary Measures' After Hearing Rumors

NEW YORK —(A.P.)—U. S. coast guardsmen boarded Yugoslav ships in New York harbor as a "precautionary measure," coast guard officers said Monday after having received "certain rumors."

Two ships were boarded, the Sreca and Neta, in Brooklyn, and a third, the Predsednik Koppajic, was said to have been boarded off Stapleton, Staten Island.

The coast guard several times denied that the ships "were seized," but indicated they either were placed in protective custody or were being watched closely.

Boarding parties moved on the ships during the early morning hours, executing a surprise maneuver at the 2,908 ton freighter Neta, Brooklyn dock. The guardsmen also took possession of the pier.

The Predsednik Koppajic it was reported, had attempted to sail from its Staten Island pier before boarding parties reached it off Stapleton.

The action was similar to that taken when the government took charge of German, Italian and Danish vessels here. At Washington the coast guard also denied it "had seized" the Yugoslav vessels but added that guardsmen were closely watching them.

New York coast guard headquarters did not amplify its statement.

4.91 Inches of Rain Recorded

5-Day Record Released by Experiment Station

Rainfall in this area as recorded by the University of Arkansas Experiment station for the past five days is 4.91 inches, George Ware, supervisor, announced Monday.

The station reported that 3.40 inches of rain fell during the past 18 hours, up to noon Monday.

Reports from Fulton said Red river was now at 25 feet, flood stage, and still rising. However there is little fear of immediate danger as the water was reported to be falling up the river. The weather bureau predicted the water would go to 26 or 27 feet at Fulton within 24 hours and then begin to decline.

Two Local Masons Receive High Degree

LITTLE ROCK —(A.P.)—Scottish rite degrees were conferred on 29 candidates Monday by the Little Rock consistory, Scottish rite, masons, in connection with the spring reunion.

Out-of-town candidates included Victor H. Cobb, Roy O. Craine, of Hope.

Station masters have authority to change a train's schedule to accommodate a passenger who is late. This authority, however, rarely is used, and only in an exceptional case of known necessity, such as permitting a patient to be taken to a hospital.

Axis Threats, Strife in Iraq Presage Near East War

New war hovered over the ancient Near East as Axis pincers drives on Suez, from Libya and Syria, were believed a matter of days by the British, who were beset with additional troubles over landing of troops in Iraq. Map shows how Germans may strike to try for double victory in Egypt and Iraq.

War Flares in Iraq, Original Eden

Iraq (Mesopotamia), whose Tigris-Euphrates valley is believed the original Garden of Eden, becomes the first nation of the Near East to be enveloped in Europe's modern war. Map shows vital oil fields, railways and principal towns of the country.

New Act Calls for Street Improvement Filings

The attention of Commissioners and other interested parties living in improvement districts having a part thereof on the State Highway is called by Rep. Royce Weisenberger to the necessity of filing claim for state benefits under Act 355 of 1941 prior to June 1. Applications must be filed with State Treasurer Earl Page.

Act 355, of 1941, provides funds to assist districts formed to pave continuations of state highways through cities and towns, where the state certificates of indebtedness issued to the districts in the past did not equal the total amount expended on the continuations by the district. This Act of which Mr. Weisenberger is one of the authors also provides for additional funds for the county turn-back fund and for a municipal turn-back.

Concede War May Continue to Next Year

Berlin Appraises Imminent Possibility of U. S. Intervention

Berlin —(A.P.)—The chance of American intervention in the war makes it impossible for the German side to speculate on the duration of the conflict, the well-posted commentary Dienstaus Deutschland said Monday in comment on Hitler's speech Sunday.

Dienst, which has close foreign office connections, hinted at the possibility the war may extend into 1942. "Involved in the assumption of such a possibility" it said, "lies undoubtedly a calculation of the possibility of American intervention."

"Such intervention is appraised by Germany as an influence which could prolong the war but under no circumstances alter the result."

From other sources there were indications that Germans who gave thoughtful study to Hitler's report to the Reichstag Sunday, were pondering prospects of the U. S. becoming a belligerent.

The fuhrer's emphasis on Germany's determination to hold her lead "in history's greatest armament race" induced many to consider the prospect that a longer war and more enemies would stand in the way of complete establishment of a "new order."

By the Associated Press

Adolf Hitler's Luftwaffe, striking within a few hours after the fuhrer told his Reichstag that no coalition of powers could defeat Germany, heavily bombed the city of Belfast, Northern Ireland, and attacked Liverpool for the fourth night in a row.

A German communique Monday termed Belfast "an important transit harbor," implying that it was being used as a port of entry for U. S. war supplies.

The Nazi high command said that four ships were set afire in the harbor and that tremendous fires and explosions were observed in aircraft and industrial plants.

British officials said it was feared the casualties at Belfast would be heavy. A previous Nazi raid there on April 15 caused 500 deaths.

RAF bombers countered with a widespread series of overnight raids blasting docks and shipping at Rotterdam, Brest and LeHavre.

Hilt Nazi Battleships

At Brest, the London air ministry reported, RAF bombs scored fresh hits on the German battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst in the 15th assault in five weeks.

"Many heavy bombs were dropped and hits were observed on or very near the battle-cruisers," the air ministry said. "The docks on both sides of the harbor were hit and large fires started."

In the Near East Britain's struggle approached the critical stage as the pro-German government of Iraq cut the flow of pipeline oil to the Mediterranean and unconfirmed reports said Iraq troops encircling the British air base garrison at Lake Habbaniyah, 60 miles west of Baghdad, were closing in.

The Swiss radio quoted a Baghdad communique as saying the airport was under constant artillery fire and buildings were aflame.

The British declared, however, the stoppage of Iraq oil pumped to Haifa in British-mandated Palestine would not jeopardize the operations of the British Mediterranean fleet.

Adequate fuel reserves were said to have been built up insuring the fleet against a shortage.

Authoritative quarters in London making no attempt to minimize the situation predicted frankly if Axis forces triumphed against Britain in the Near East Hitler probably would thrust next at Iran, the world's fourth biggest oil producer.

The German radio broadcast an asserted "official report" from Baghdad, the Iraq capital, that British planes bombed the city Sunday morning.

Star Extends Delivery to Washington, Ozan, Nashville

Effective with this issue The Star will be delivered by carriers every afternoon in Washington, Ozan and Nashville, at the same time delivery is made on the Hope city routes.

This is the third extension of carrier service into suburban territory within three years. The first carrier run was east to Emmet and Prescott. A year ago service was started south to Lewisville, Stamps and Bradley—and north today to Washington, Ozan and Nashville, giving same-evening home-delivery to towns within a 30-mile radius of Hope.

The Ever-Growing Burden
Eighty million Germans are now lodging it over one hundred and fifty two million other Europeans. There are nearly two underlings for every member of the conquering "master race."
The caterpillar-treaded Nazi legions have clanked successively through a monotonous series of conquests—
Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Belgium, France, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, and now Greece. It is an impressive record of conquest from the strictly military point of view.

Street crowds in Berlin are reported strangely silent, strangely lacking in jubilation, as victory piles on victory. Mussolini's capering are understandable, and the joy of street crowds in Rome at the news that their Greek adventure had been pulled out of the fire for them by Hitler. But to the crowds in Berlin, the Greek victory was just one more victory.
They are used to that. For a year and a half, one victory has followed another, but there is no end.
Strange and stubborn, those conquered "sub-peoples." Their armies are conquered. They fall. But all too many of them retain a pride that somehow doesn't go with the idea that they are "sub-peoples." And the Greeks, newest conquest, stood silent of the tanks rolled by the Panzer divisions, and their newspapers said:
"Remember, Greeks, this, too, will pass!"
They cannot revolt, these hundred and fifty millions oppressed by eighty millions. The eighty millions have the tanks, the planes, and the machine guns.
But they can hate. And they can wait.
Some of them can even be forced by hunger to go to Germany and work to produce the fodder for the iron war-horse. Thousands of Italians, Poles, Czechs and Frenchmen are doing this.
Always there must be that overpowering sense that they are waiting, waiting for the time that must come.
They feel that, the troops of occupation in a dozen scattered countries.
They feel it in Berlin, where news of victory is accepted stolidly. They know that even if their legions win
the Mediterranean, even if they crush England, the only result will be more millions of people waiting, waiting.
Nobody has ever built anything very enduring on that kind of a foundation. Nobody ever will. Nobody is doing it now.

WE, THE WOMEN

"Modern Attitude" is Taking Fun Out of Raising Children

By RUTH MILLETT
The birth-rate of women in America is two and a half times greater than that of citizens in the "above average intelligence" group.
That fact was recently pointed out by Dr. George H. Estabrooks, Colgate University psychology professor, who says that because of it the United States is changing from a democracy into a "monocracy."
Dr. Estabrooks isn't the first to "view with alarm" the future of a country where the intelligent, educated class isn't having its share of children. We have been hearing warnings for a long time.
No Fun in Parenthood?
The educated class has a good excuse now. Its members can say, "With the future so uncertain, we just do not feel justified in bringing children into the world."
Before the war, they could say they were waiting for "better times." They

But looking at the young folks you yourself know, who don't seem at all enthusiastic about having families, you begin to wonder if it isn't because most of the fun has been taken out of parenthood.
Young, potential parents hear nothing but the scientific and the gloomy side of raising a family. They have come to think of children not as human beings who need food, but as demanding little machines who must have the right formula--or else.
"Modern Attitude" Has Misled Them
They think of growing children not as interesting, developing persons, of them never have the first baby.

of the former on Saturday afternoon. The honoree chair was marked with a lovely corsage of white spring flowers tied with white satin ribbons. Five tables were arranged for the contract players with Mrs. Finley Ward receiving the high score gift for the afternoon. Gifts were also presented to the honoree and to Miss Jane Orton, another bride-elect.

Always providing a great deal of entertainment is a game of bingo, Miss Beryl Henry called the cards and presented lovely gifts of miniature vases of spring flowers to Mrs. J. M. Hudson, Mrs. J. M. Hudson, Mrs. Pansy Wimberly, Mrs. B. E. McMahon, and Mrs. Joe Black.

After the games the hostesses served a delicious ice course with cakes embossed in the bridal motif to the players, and four ten guests, Miss Beryl Henry, Mrs. C. D. Lester, Mrs. Henry Haynes, and Miss Pansy Wimberly.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Brooks Shults of Fulton, Mrs. Harvey Shaver of Fulton, Mrs. O. S. Townsend, Mrs. Scott Ross, Mrs. J. M. Hudson, Mrs. Sun Townsend, Mrs. Ramey Garland, and Mrs. Frank Hutton Jr., all of Emmet.

Miss Martha White Is Honored at Buffet Supper Before Prom

One of the first social events of this season honoring the high school graduates was the buffet supper given by Mrs. C. D. Lester for her niece, Miss Martha White, on Friday night preceding the Junior-Senior prom.

The color scheme of red was observed in the artistic decorations noted throughout the home. Supper was served, buffet style, in the dining room from the lace draped table centered with red tulips roses in a crystal bowl. Flanking the central arrangement were red tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Eugene White presided at the silver service, and Miss Beryl Henry served the salads. Further assisting in dispensing the hospitality of the evening was Mrs. R. E. White.

Guests included Miss White and Jack Hendrix, Miss Mary Wilson and Thomas Kinser, Miss Nancy Hill and Mark Buchanan, Miss Nancy Faye Williams and Charles Buxley.

Clara Lawther C. of C. Meets On Saturday Afternoon

The members of the Clara Lawther chapter of the Children of the Confederacy were entertained on Saturday afternoon by Miss Rose Marie Hendrix, Miss Frances Harrell, and Miss Ophelia Hamilton at the home of the former.

Twenty-four members responded to the roll call and Miss Mary Wilson, the president opened the meeting with the salute to the Confederate flag. It was announced by the director of the chapter, Mrs. H. C. Whitworth, that the members will participate in weaving the wreath at the Memorial day services at the cemetery in May.

Miss Marie Antoinette Williams gave the program on "Appollonians" telling the complete history of Arkansas' state flower.

During the social hour the hostesses served a delicious salad plate with iced tea to the members and the following prospective members:

Gwendolyn Evans, Ruth Bowden, Eunice Dale Baker, Marian Crutchfield, Betty Coleman, Rose Mary Comp, Marion Mouser, and Nell Jean Byers.

Large Attendance Is Urged at P. T. A. Council Lecture

The sixth lecture on "Consumer Buying" will be delivered by Miss Ruth Taylor on Tuesday at the final meeting of the P. T. A. council for May.

CAROLYN never knew what strange, age-old impulse within her made her take that utterly impossible leap from the airplane.

It was as if she had been stripped of all superficialities, all earthly pretense, when she had lingered there that last moment in the ship. Bob was crazed with anxiety for her. He had ordered her to jump. She was unafraid!

And now, actually in the mid-night storm, she still experienced no great terror. Her senses were temporarily numbed. She had shut her eyes tight against rain. She felt a harsh whirling, then a sense of ethereal, timeless floating as if in some fantastic nightmare.

First genuine consciousness returned when her ears began to "pop," as one's ears do in a swift elevator descent. Next instant she realized the rain was gone and there was even a hint of visibility.

"OH-H-h-h!"

The shriek was snatched out of her mouth. But now she was aware! She clawed at the metal ring on her chest.

WHOO-O-O-o-o-sh!

Invisible arms grabbed her, pulled her, snatched her, turned her crazily around—and then she began rocking.

The wind changed to a smaller cross breeze, and there was a singing tautness in her head. Breath came in gasps.

In the same moment, which had begun with a high point of fright, a triumphant exaltation seized her. Something in this appealed to her youth! Here was excitement! Darling! Adventure! Success!

She had no time to reason about that but presently her alert senses did tell her that she had literally dropped away from the storm. The worst part of it now was far overhead and driving toward the horizon.

A flash of frenzy assailed her—Bob Hale was still up there!—but

Party In Texarkana Honors Miss Jane Orton

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vance entertained with a dinner at their home in Texarkana on Saturday at 7 o'clock. The dinner honored Miss Jane Orton and Weldon Glass of Texarkana, whose engagement was announced last Sunday.

A lovely arrangement of pink and white spring flowers centered the table where covers were laid for Miss Orton, Mr. Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Lennox Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuckley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Singleton, Miss Marjorie Pipes, John D. Raffanell, and Mr. and Mrs. Vance.

Personal Mention

Mrs. L. M. Lile left Monday for a visit in Little Rock.

Mrs. F. S. Heame and daughter, Miss Mary Jane, and Mrs. Hugh Jones were Saturday visitors in Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brown and daughter, Jessie Clarice, and Mr. and Mrs. Arlist Brown spent Sunday with relatives in Mena.

Mitchell Williams left Saturday morning for Washington D. C., where he has accepted a position.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carr had as week-end guests Mrs. Carr's sister, Mrs. G. G. Fulmer and daughter, Martha Ann, of Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Howell of Walden spent Sunday with Mrs. J. A. Henry.

Mr. H. M. Olsen left Sunday for a visit in San Antonio, Texas.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Lester Sr. and Miss Davis included Mrs. T. J. Stubbs of Ansonia, Texas, Mrs. Walter Harper of Brownwood, Texas, Mrs. C. E. Smith of Albany, Texas, Mrs. L. B. Gill of Brownwood, Mrs. W. K. Millsaps of Henrietta, Texas, and Miss Etta Picke of Henrietta.

Mrs. W. W. Duckett has as guest this week Miss Maude Winn of Ash-down.

Mrs. Charlie Bell of Texarkana spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bridwell.

Major Mack Duffie of Camp Robinson in Little Rock spent the week-end with Mrs. Duffie and other relatives.

Mrs. Ida Boyett and Mrs. Della White were week-end guests of their sister, Mrs. R. L. Crossnoe, in Texarkana.

British Down 4 Nazi Planes

Germans Begin Attack on Greek Island of Crete

CAIRO —(P)— British planes have shot down four Nazi raiders over the Greek island of Crete, the RAF reported Monday indicating the Germans were beginning a long-expected intensive attack on Greece's new headquarters.

The war bulletin said anti-aircraft guns destroyed other Nazi planes over the island, to which King George 2nd and his ministers fled after the fall of Athens.

In Libya it was reported RAF bombers raided Axis airbases at Derna and Benina, near Benghazi. At least 100 Axis motor transport vehicles were listed as severely damaged by air attacks in North and East Africa.

Kiwanis Club Meet Tuesday

Rev. J. E. Hamill to Be Principal Speaker

The Rev. J. E. Hamill, pastor of the Hope Gospel Tabernacle, and vice-president of the Hope Kiwanis club will speak on "How You Can Defend America," to the Tuesday noon Kiwanis luncheon in Hotel Barlow, the program committee announced Monday.

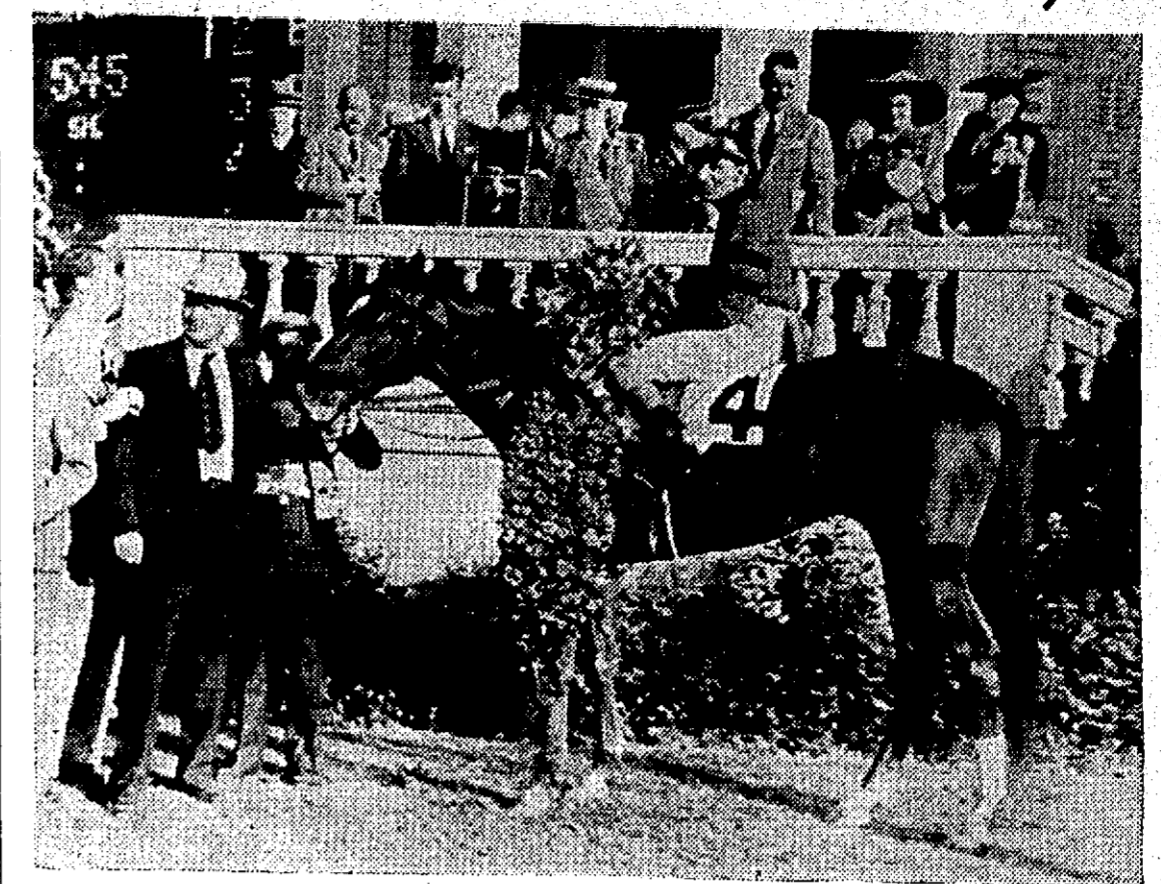

Kiwanis officials expressed the hope that all members would be present for the Tuesday program and luncheon. Buford Poe, club secretary, announced that the local club had made the "Gold Division" in the Mo-Kan-Ark district with a score of 93 for the month of April. This is the highest score made by the local club in two or three years.

A continued attendance equal to that of the past few months will keep the club in the "Gold Division", Mr. Poe said.

Lindbergh Gives Museum Medal

Sen. Clark Defends Award for Civil Aeronautics

ST. LOUIS —(P)—Charles A. Lindbergh says the Nazi decoration he received on a visit to Germany before the present war was turned over to a museum along with other trophies.

This was disclosed by the famous trans-Atlantic flier, through United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark (D-Mo.), following comment by a presidential secretary last week that Lindbergh's resignation as a colonel in the reserve air corps "leads me to wonder if he is returning his decoration to Mr. Hitler."

Senator Clark, preceding Lindbergh on the platform at an America First rally Saturday night, assailed critics who denounced Lindbergh's acceptance and failure to return the medal, declaring:

"To undertake to answer the cogent arguments of Lindbergh by using the fact that Germany had joined the United States and almost every nation in the world in honoring his pre-eminence as a flier is utterly beneath contempt."

A.P.L. License Is Terminated

Commission Dismisses Also Sour Gas Plant Plan

PINE BLUFF —(P)—Notice that the Federal Power Commission has terminated the license or the Arkansas power & Light Co. to construct a joint flood control and hydroelectric power dam on the Ouachita river at Blakely mountain effective June 1 was received Monday by C. S. Lynch, executive vice-president of the utility.

The power commission also dismissed the petition of the utility for permission to erect a steam-operated generating plant in the sour-gas fields of south Arkansas. This was not unexpected, however, Lynch said, since FPC authority for this would have been required only in the event extension of the Blakely license had been granted.

"Now we are required only to obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity from the Department of Public Utilities of Arkansas," Mr. Lynch said. "We are sincere in our plans to erect the steam-generating plant as quickly as possible and will make every effort next Monday at a hearing before the DPU to show why we should be granted this certificate so we can proceed immediately without construction plans for the plant."

Truce Patched Up on Paper

Pine Bluff Commercial Escapes Suspension Threat

PINE BLUFF — A strike called by Pine Bluff Local No. 447, International Typographical Union, against the Pine Bluff Commercial, delayed publication of the newspaper for several hours Saturday afternoon. Only a four page edition was printed.

E. W. Freeman Sr., head of the Commercial Printing Company, said the strike resulted from "a temporary breakdown" in labor contract negotiations between the management and the composing room staff.

The hostess served the club with delicious refreshments. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Mack Hicks in May.

Discovery of Stamp Racket

Scheme to Swindle Food Stamp Plan Exposed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(P)— Police announced the discovery of food stamp racket here Saturday which inspector M. A. Hinds described as a scheme to swindle the federal government of "thousands of dollars." Three merchants, a WPA foreman and 16 Negroes are held without charge pending arrival of a Department of Agriculture investigator.

Inspector Hinds said the plan operated like this: Certain merchants gave money to negroes qualified to purchase food stamps. The stamps' worth double the amount paid for them. The merchants took the stamps, gave the negro accomplices a small share, then cashed the rest at a bank or turned them over to wholesale houses as cash credits—at full value.

"There's no telling to what gigantic proportions this may already have gone," the inspector said. "With what information we now have I'd estimate as much as $15,000 has been taken in this way since February 17."

Hinds said no state charges could be placed against the defendants but a Dallas investigator for the Agriculture Department would come here to take over the investigation.

Sprinkle the slices with flour and brown on both sides in a small amount of heated fat. Arrange the slices, with edges overlapping around the meat on the serving platter.

Old Liberty

The Old Liberty Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Elmer Calhoun April 14th with 12 members present. Mrs. Calhoun gave the devotional followed by a prayer. The members answered the roll call with their new dish they had prepared. The minutes were read and approved. The club also sang some of the club songs.

The members gave their reports to the leaders and all the business being finished, the meeting was turned over to the demonstration agent, Miss Fletcher gave an interesting demonstration on upholstering a chair, also how to make a sack rug. She also gave an interesting talk on preparation and preservation of food. The agent also discussed the Food and Feed Campaign.

The hostess served the club with delicious refreshments. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Mack Hicks in May.

Committee of Bureau Studies Farm Problems

Summary Report Is Released By Waldo Frasier, State Official

A formal report summarizing the results of a four months study on problems of the South has been made by a special committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation, according to an announcement by Waldo Frasier, executive secretary of the state organization.

The committee, composed of leading farmers from throughout the nation and assisted by a group of public officials and laymen from the South, included among its recommendations the following:

1. The solution to the grave social problems of the South must depend in substantial measure on industrial expansion which will absorb a part of the surplus population of this area. The committee endorsed measures to promote industrial development in the South and in particular urged the united support of the congress for a readjustment of freight rates, a vigorous attack upon monopolistic concentrations of industry through adequate support to the present administration of anti-trust laws, and location of new defense industries in Southern areas.

2. Federal support for health and educational programs to combat nutritional and educational deficiencies which are handicapping Southern progress; a special effort to include rural youth of the South in the program for training for defense industry; and vigorous measures to overcome malnutrition in the Southern states.

3. Increased diversification of Southern agriculture as a part of the farm program, with special emphasis upon expansion of home production of food crops for home consumption.

4. Long-run adjustments in Southern agriculture, occasioned by the probable curtailment in foreign markets for export crops. The importance of present basic farm crops, however, as the source of present income was stressed along with the necessity for parity income for their producers.

5. A program of conservation and farm forestry, to be worked out by the Forest Service, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and Farm Credit Administration in conjunction with the Land Grant Colleges to increase returns from Southern forest resources. This program would be adequately financed from appropriations for that purpose, according to the recommendations.

Serving under Edward A. O'Neal, Alabama farmer and president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, on the committee were the following state federation presidents: Ransom Aldrich, Mississippi; J. F. Porter, Tennessee; Ben Kilgore, executive secretary in Kentucky; Earl C. Smith, Illinois; Francis Johnson, Iowa; George M. Putnam, New Hampshire; H. P. Kinn, New York; H. J. King, Wyoming; and Mrs. H. W. Ahart, California, immediate past president of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Committee advisors included: Dr. H. R. Tolley, Bureau of Agricultural Economics; Chester C. Davis, Federal Reserve Board; I. W. Duggan, Southern Regional AAA Director; Dr. H. A. Morgan, TVA; Clarence Poe, editor of Progressive Farmer; Donald Comer, Birmingham; and Dr. L. M. Duncan, president of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama.

Vanishing Americans Get Hep to Pan America as Red (Hot) Men Go Dancing Through Mexico

The old: young Navajos do tribal step. The new: Navajos Joe and best gal go jitterbug.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Indian youths swing easily from slow tribal steps to hot modern jive all for the sake of hemispheric solidarity and a trip to Mexico. Sons and daughters of ancient Americans turn jitterbug to tunes from juke box in their school canteen to finance good will visit to cousins south of the border in line with good neighbor policy. Nickels from music box, sale of hamburgers, candy and soft drinks, and work done by students of Albuquerque Indian School have raised $2000 for 3500-mile trip in May by 43 boys and 30 girl graduates. Navajo, Apache and Pueblo youths will do their dances at San Antonio to raise more cash and will perform them for entertainment of Mexican hosts. Chaperons will accompany them on bus trip with girls cooking by roadside to save money.

Holt's Interpretation of the 1941 'Lawyer's Bill'

Weisenberger Submits Text of Holt's Opinion

Editor The Star: I enclose a copy of the official opinion on the "Lawyer's Bill," Act 125 of 1941.

Permit me to compliment you on your editorial in the Star of May 2 on the CIO. Being a member of the Officers Reserve Corps, it is proper that I not express myself in regard to the subject, but suffice it to say that I think your statements were mild, indeed.

I asked a local man, who is and has been a union man for 25 years, how the many patriotic Americans in those unions could be prevailed on to do what they have been doing and he replied that in his opinion the great majority responded as ordered because these organizations managed to incorporate enough bad men, who the rank and file knew would not hesitate to attack their brethren who might see fit to differ with the leaders.

I think the article by Mr. Wilk in the current Colliers is worth everyone's reading.

The abstract to the army sight covering the north half of the block west of the courthouse was mailed to Gen. Comore by myself at the suggestion of Mayor Graves. The deed has been recorded and the abstract approved by the Attorney-General subject to a clarification of improvement district taxes. Yesterday, F. Y. Trimble, the abstractor, certified this particular property was not in the improvement district, the abstract has been returned and I assume will be approved now.

Respectfully yours,

Royce Weisenberger

Famous Doctor Dies Sunday

Dr. W. C. Campbell Succumbs in Chicago

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)— Dr. Willis Cohoon Campbell, 60, Memphis orthopedic surgeon and leader in national medical circles, died Sunday in Chicago, Memphis friends learned. In 1911 he came to Chicago for treatment since March 1. His death was attributed to a heart ailment and pneumonia.

Dr. Campbell had received worldwide recognition for doing the work he liked best—repairing broken or deformed bones. As originator of several operative procedures, he showed the medical world the way to the repair of ligaments in the knee and in the operative fixation or restoration of knee, hip and elbow joints.

Use of sulphamide to prevent rekindling of infection in bone surgery cases was one of his more recent innovations. He founded the Campbell Clinic in Memphis in 1920.

A native of Jackson, Miss., he was the author of several books and an active or honorary member of many medical societies here and abroad.

For the reasons stated above, I wish to withdraw my opinion of April 10th and hold that the Act does not prohibit the drawing of deeds, mortgages, sales contracts and leases by anyone.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely Yours,

JACK HOLT,

Attorney General

Sewing School for Home Clubs

Demonstration of Machine to Be Made May 6

A sewing machine school will be held Tuesday, May 6, at the courthouse for the benefit of home demonstration clubs clothing leaders and any other club members who are interested in learning to take care of her own machine, according to Mary Claude Fletcher, home demonstration agent.

Each woman will bring her own machine and bench and learn the care, operation and renovating of machines. A machine that is a year old is just as important to learn the care of as a machine that is 20 years old.

This school will be under the direction of Earl L. Arnold, Extension Agricultural Engineer. The school will start at 9:30 a. m. and finish about 4:30 p. m.

Each woman will have a complete course in the school before she completes the day. The women who are interested in coming to the school will please report to Miss Fletcher's office immediately and have your clothing leader to report.

This is an unusual type of school and one that is a great benefit to women who do their own sewing. This will be a part of the Better Homes program.
